This is my first Solitaire game of this kind. Let's be fair, this game is not amazing. A lot of random layouts. Might get bored quickly. From other hand this is a good time killer. It suck nearly 40h from my life.. This is my first Solitaire game of this kind. Let's be fair, this game is not amazing. A lot of random layouts. Might get bored quickly. From other hand this is a good time killer. It suck nearly 40h from my life.. This game can be addictive! Gameplay is simple enough to understand & suitable for any age group. Gorgeous card designs & several card backs to choose from. While gameplay is easy to learn, it can take some skill and luck to master. I feel this game offers something for everyone.. Powers are far too expensive, so it's long to complete the game, but it's a good match-2 card game.. It's a simple Solitaire game with a Beach setting. Nothing really special. If you like simple time wasting solitaire games you will probably like this game too. But imho it is a little overpriced.

. I really don't think Solitaire is the right name for this game as it isn't a solitaire game it's a match 2 game. It isn't even very good as a Match 2 game either as every hand is not winnable to the point where you can end up with exactly 1 card remaining or 2 completely different cards. The entire point of the game seems to be grind replay so more players are playing it making it seem like a better game than it is. It has the exact same card layouts as their previously released game Solitaire Christmas. Match 2 Cards the only difference being the card backs and backgrounds all of the level patterns are exactly the same and it clearly has the same flaws and game programming. You can 100% it in 15 - 20 hours depending on luck. I would only recommend this if you really like Match 2 games, card games and have something to do while mindlessly playing it even still I would only get it when it goes on sale for .49 cents which it does frequently.

It's a simple Solitaire game with a Beach setting. Nothing really special. If you like simple time wasting solitaire games you will probably like this game too. But imho it is a little overpriced.. its more like matching pairs then solitaire but still fun and not too brain wrecking LOL. Great "solitaire" card game. Simple concept, draw two cards at a time, any pair can be discarded. There are a set number of gold cards you want to collect per level. You can proceed without them, but if you're looking to gain all the achievements you'll strive to collect them all.

You purchase power ups and they are consumable, in that they are one use. They consist of shuffle all cards, mulligan (undo), and a wild card.

There's an "island vacation" theme, but it's irrelevant. Visuals do the job. Music was adequate but I turned it off and just listened to my own in the background.

My one complaint is that occasionally I'd click my draw pile instead of the face up card next to it. A bit more space between these two would have been appreciated.

Besides that one little quibble, this is an excellent time waster. A+. low quality mobile game. I enjoy card games - preferring "golf" solitaire to this match the pairs - but if you have patience and don't mind playing the same layout over and over and over, then you will enjoy this game. There does not appear to be any weighting of the deck so card distribution is completely random, meaning you will lose many more times than you win.

Power ups are limited to three very expensive options so you have to adopt a style of play where you simply replay the level and hope for a better distribution than to attempt to buy a power up.

The limited selection of music will end being repetitive as you grind levels. You have to complete 10 levels to a fairly high "standard" to advance to the next set of 10 layouts. Again, if you don't mind replaying a level several times to get a perfect score or just to advance to the next set of 10 levels, then there are many levels for you to enjoy.

Catch it on sale though so you can break even on the trading cards if nothing else.
